Genetic Risk Factors for Breast Cancer

Gender: Breast cancer occurs nearly 100 times more often in women than in men.

Race: more common in caucasians

Age: Increases as a women gets older

Family history and Genetic Factors: If your mother, sister, father or child has been diagnosed with breast or ovarian caner, you have a higher risk of being diagnosed with breast cancer in the future.

Personal Health History: If you have been diagnosed with breast cancer in one breast, you have an increased risk of being diagnosed with breast cancer in the other breast in the future.

Menstrual and Reproductive History: Early menstruation (before age 12), late menopause (after 55).

Childbirth: having your first child at an older age, or never having given birth can also increase your risk for breast cancer.
